

Please feel free to ask questions – here you can find out:

- The policy alternatives to reduce greenhouse gas emissions from agriculture
- How we can link sustainable forestry with capturing carbon
- About GILDED: an EU funded project focussing on identifying, describing and modelling sustainable lifestyles
- How the bioclimatic zones of Scotland will change and what the future may hold for Land Capability for Agriculture
- About JANEEMO: a biofuels project in Malawi supporting local needs for energy and enterprise
- How climate change might affect flooding in the Aberdeen area
- How plants may grow in a future climate
- Why Scottish soils are so important for storing carbon
- The implications of climate change on nitrogen pollution and the effect on loch and river water
- How deforestation and forest degradation increase greenhouse gas emissions – and how can it be reduced
- How agricultural expansion in Brazil is threatening the rainforests
- What is the carbon balance of a short rotation coppice biomass crop?

